

Grant of Permission for Teachers, Educators, and Librarians during the COVID-19 pandemic: Online Read-Aloud in Distance-Learning Classroom Setting

To support and help all teachers, educators, and librarians across the country, and the children they serve, Star Bright Books grants permission for the use of Star Bright Books titles to be included in your distance-learning classroom setting with the following guidelines:

- 1. This grant of permission will be effective until June 30.
2. Teachers, educators, and librarians create a read-aloud video of a Star Bright Books title(s) in a distanced place to share with their students via an online platform.
3. Teachers, educators, and librarians can post/upload the video(s) or stream on a closed educational platform(s)* that are accessible for students and their families. This excludes Instagram, Facebook, or Twitter, although a link to the video or webpage may be shared on these social media platforms.
4. Teachers, educators, and librarians are encouraged to state this permission information: “reading with permission from Star Bright Books,” either at the beginning or end of the video, or simply add as a closed caption to the video.
5. The duration of each video’s usage on the platform is 60 days after uploading. We ask teachers, educators, and librarians to remove read-aloud videos of Star Bright Books titles from the platform sixty (60) days after uploading.

Please notify us via email (marketing@starbrightbooks.com) with the following information when the read-aloud video is posted or streamed, and share the link to video(s) with us. You may send this information before you post the video or shortly after the class in which the video is shared with students.
